

EDUCATION

PhD. program, coursework completed.
Ecology. University of California,
Davis, 1976.
MS. Ecology, University of California,
Davis, 1973.
BA. Earth Sciences, University of California, San Diego, 1970.

RECENT Presentations

Maximum Crop for Minimum Water and Almost No Weeds. Lemon Grove
Community Garden. June 18, 2022.
Assisted Natural Regeneration for Semi-arid and Arid Lands. 9th World
Conference on Ecological Restoration,
Quebec. June 23, 2021

AWARDS

Earth Repair Hall of Fame, 2022.

Award for Leadership. TV Channel 10, San Diego. 2009.

Heart of Green, 40 inspiring stories of people making a difference. The Daily Green. 2009.

Marshall Goldsmith College of Business Award for Scholarship. 2008.

Excellence in Teaching. National Society of Leadership and Success (ΑΣΠ), AIU. 2007.

Passive Solar Pioneer. American Solar Energy Association. 2004.

City of San Diego Recycling Award, Alliant International University/Ecodefense Club. 2004
(faculty advisor)

World's Top 40 Socially Conscious Designers. International Design Magazine. 2001.

President's Award for Excellence in Service, US International University. AY-2000-2001.

Environmental Club, Best Student Club. 1997-98 (faculty advisor)

World Organization of Building Officials. Award for indigenous material in building, straw bale building research and education. David Eisenberg (DCAT), David Bainbridge, Steve McDonald, Matts Myrhman, Dan Smith. 1996.

Outstanding Planning Program Award, American Planning Association for Land Use Capability Manual. 1981.

Meritorious Program Award for San Francisco Bay Region Environment and Resources Planning Study. Northern Section, California Chapter, American Planning Association. 1980.

State of California Passive Solar Design Competition. First Place. Central Valley Region. Jon Hammond, Living Systems team. 1979.

Community Energy Conservation Award. City of Davis for Davis Energy Conservation Building Code development and implementation. Living Systems. 1979.

State of California Passive Solar Design Competition Award for Cool Pool passive cooling design. Living Systems Team. 1979.

Citation by Progressive Architecture 26th Awards Program, for Site Planning for Solar Access. Jon Hammond and David Bainbridge. 1979.

Citation by Progressive Architecture 26th Awards Program, for Planning Solar Neighborhoods. David Bainbridge and Bruce Melzer., Living Systems. 1979.

Special commendation from the California Energy Commission for work on the State Passive Solar Tax Credit Regulations. 1978.

American Institute of Planners award for Energy Conservation in Davis Report, Living Systems. 1977.

Aerojet General Academic Scholarship 1966-1970.

National Science Foundation Summer Camp, Earth Sciences, Oregon State University. 1965.

EXPERIENCE

1975-present. Researcher/Writer

2009-2014. Associate, ISOS Group. Certified trainer for Global Reporting Initiative sustainability reporting training.

2003-2010. Associate Professor, Sustainable Management. Marshall Goldsmith School of Management, Alliant International University, San Diego.

1995-2003. Coordinator of Environmental Studies, Assistant and then Associate Professor, Alliant International University, San Diego.

2002-2005. New School of Architecture, thesis advisor and jury member for Masters in Architecture program.

1989-2000. Adjunct faculty, program manager, and restoration ecologist, San Diego State University.

1989-1992. Adjunct faculty. William Carey International University, Pasadena, California.

1989. Site visits, research, and collaboration with agroforesters in four provinces of China as an invited guest of the Chinese Academy of Forestry, Beijing.

1986-1988. Public information representative and agroecologist, Dry Lands Research Institute, University of California, Riverside.

1981-1995. Writing, consulting, teaching, research, design, and development. Environmental analysis and management, sustainability issues, agroforestry, agriculture, and energy. Including work for public and private organizations. Alternate uses for rice straw in California for the California Air Resources board, Agroforestry in the S.W. for the U.S. Forest Service.

1978-1981. Founder and President, Passive Solar Institute, Davis, California. Including research and design work on new and retrofit projects in residential and commercial buildings, planning for energy conservation and ecologically sound development. Contributor to the California Passive Solar Handbook for the California Energy Commission.

1977-1978. Special specialist, Solar Office, California Energy Commission, Sacramento, California. Development and management of passive solar program elements including natural cooling, daylighting, passive water heaters, solar tax credit guidelines.

1977-1981. Consultant, researcher, writer, and teacher. Energy and passive solar design consultant, research and writing on passive solar design, energy conservation. Judge for the Federal Department of Housing and Urban Development Passive Solar Competition.

1975-1977. Planner/researcher for Living Systems, Winters, California. Direct and conduct research and writing on energy conservation and planning, research and development of passive solar heating and cooling, author of microclimate and water conservation materials. Trainer for City of Davis Climatic Building Code workshops with local builders and developers.

1975. Consulting geologist/planner to the Association of Bay Area Governments (ABAG), Berkeley. Responsible for elements of Land Use Manual for ABAG and Land Capability Analysis for U.S. Geological Survey.

1972-1974. Co-founder, Director, and Vice-President of Bainbridge, Behrens, and Moore, Inc. Manage and participate in planning and research in environmental impact, low-cost housing, and bikeway design.

1971-1972. Graduate student intern, environmental consultant with Assembly Committee on Environmental Quality. Staff work on California Environmental Quality Act guidelines and related issues.

Summer 1971. Director, Environmental Geology Research Group, San Diego County Environmental Development Agency. Develop program, direct team and assist with mapping and research.

Summer 1970. Member, Coastal Lagoon Research Group, County of San Diego Environmental Task Force. Research and develop report on coastal lagoon ecology, preservation and management.

Fall/Winter 1965-1966. Translation of old English documents from Feversham, England to modern English for author Diane Davidson.

Summer 1965. National Science Foundation Earth Sciences Program. Oregon State University.

SERVICE

ADVISOR

ISOS Group, GRI reporting; National Research Council; American Solar Energy Society National Organizing Committee. University of California Natural Reserve System (teams evaluating reserve acquisitions), Desert Restoration Task Force (interagency group for the SW deserts); California Flora Committee; California Energy Commission panels on Advanced Wall Systems and Passive Solar Systems. Restoration consultant for National Park Service; Bureau of Land Management; California State Parks and OHV Recreation Areas, Department of Defense (Pt. Loma-Navy; 29 Palms, MCAS-Miramar, Camp Pendleton-Marines, Fort Irwin-Army); California Department of Transportation, Roadside Management Review Committee; Center for Resource Management, University of Yucatan; National Affordable Housing Coalition; Canelo Project for Sustainable Development; California Agroforestry Group; development and implementation of climatically adapted building/planning codes, City of Davis, Sacramento County, and Indio.

REVIEWER

Technical reviewer for US Department of Agriculture, US Agency for International Development, National Science Foundation, and other grant programs. Judge, Federal Housing and Urban Development Solar House Competition.

DESIGN, INNOVATION, FABRICATION AND CONSTRUCTION EXPERIENCE

Development of instruments, processes and equipment for field research, restoration project implementation, more efficient remote site irrigation: soil strength testers, portable infiltrometers, and vegetation area gauge.

Many years experience in design, construction, and fabrication, from research to blueprints to building. Design and construction work on residential and commercial projects, both new and retrofit, from cottage to subdivision scale. Extensive remodeling experience (three major remodeling projects, two solar homes designed and one built, deconstruction of one home).

Energy conservation and solar design including solar system development and research, passive solar heating and cooling, solar water heaters, solar simulators, and shading evaluators. Development and testing of straw bale building components and technology, reinforcing and stabilizing walls, plasters, straw bale system evaluation and research on eocomposite materials. Refinement and implementation of climate based building code for the City of Davis.

MINIBIO

I grew up in the west, living as a child in Colorado, Washington, Oregon and California. Working in the family toy factory and living in a small town in northeastern Washington (364 people) helped me fully appreciate the challenges and potential for local self-reliance and resource management. I was educated at the University of California, San Diego, Earth Sciences and U.C. Davis, Ecology and Environmental Planning. My interest in economics and the challenges of sustainable resource management and environmental accounting began in the interdisciplinary Eco-Grad Group at U.C. Davis in the 1970s. My career began with environmental planning work for the Environmental Development Agency in San Diego in 1970 to protect the coastal lagoons of San Diego County. I founded a company in grad school that did environmental consulting, growing to 15 employees and pulling me away from my PhD work. My interest in microclimate and energy flows led me to work with Living Systems and the California Energy Commission on planning for energy conservation and solar research, development and education.

For almost 50 years I have focused on the challenge of sustainable management of resources and people. My pioneering work has included: developments in environmental impact analysis, land capability evaluation (including costs), planning for sustainable communities, natural heating and cooling research, alternative building materials research and education (including straw bale building systems), research and education work in agroforestry and sustainable agriculture, desert and grassland restoration, and environmental accounting and sustainable management for businesses. I have written or been coauthor of 15 major books, 22 book chapters and more than 300 articles and reports on sustainable resource management. I developed the sustainable management program at the Marshall Goldsmith School of Management and taught management, ecopreneurship, sustainable management, environmental management reporting, ethics, and other courses, served on doctoral research committees (for the Doctor of Business Administration degree) and assisted with campus and university sustainability initiatives including design management for a 48,000 square foot building before my retirement in 2010. My current writing and research focus remains on sustainable resource management and environmental history.

PIONEERING

I have always enjoyed being a pioneer (first state workshop on environmental impact analysis (1972), consultant enabling the first modern solar subdivision (1976), first steel tank water wall passive solar home (1978), first quantitative land capability analysis report, USGS (1979), first passive solar tax credit, California (1978), contributor to the first passive solar handbook for California (1980), first straw bale workshop (1989), coauthor of the first book on sustainable agriculture for California (1991), editor of the first report on climate change impacts in Mexico (1991), first desert restoration workshop for the Society for Ecological Restoration (1993), first book on straw bale construction (1994), first national park guide to desert restoration (1995), contributor to the first book on agroforestry in California (1989) and the US (1997), first international conference on ecocomposites (2001), speaker at the first US Society of Ecological Economics Conference (2002), first International Solar Energy Society passive solar reference guidebook (2009), and co-organizer of the first North American conference on environmental and sustainability management accounting EMAN (2010). I hope to stay on the frontier. there is still much to be done and much to be learned.
